Designed to refresh, replenish and restore, facials at Face to Face in Los Angeles are truly one of a kind. Businessman Robert van den Hurk joined forces with aesthetician Marianne Kehoe after receiving his first Iderm® Dermaculture facial. What sets their facials apart from all others is that they believe on working on the skin from the inside out resulting in the reduction of pore size, elimination of acne and firming and tightening of skin. As an added bonus, their products are all natural.

Brown Sugar Body Cream

To celebrate the 10-year anniversary of their Brown Sugar collection, Fresh will be releasing Brown Sugar Body Cream, the much-anticipated counterpart to their widely popular and cult favorite, Brown Sugar Body Polish. Fans who have sworn by their Brown Sugar Body Polish have more reason to celebrate with the introduction of their Brown Sugar Body Cream. The cream is an ultra-rich moisturizer that contains similar ingredients as their polish including: sugar, shea butter, jojoba seed oil and sweet almond oil, apricot kernel oil, passionflower. The cream is hydrating and super soft.

year-round product that will keep you looking and feeling fresh and smooth. Use in conjunction with the Brown Sugar Body Polish, for unbelievably radiant and supple skin. Also enjoy the added benefits of their citrus aroma that will also leave you smelling fresh and clean. The Brown Sugar line was inspired by Fresh founders Lev Glazman and Alina Roytberg's respective grandmothers who used sugar to heal wounds, a remedy still effective today. And since it's arrival 10 years ago, the Brown Sugar line has been highly favored and recommended by beauty magazines, editors and make up artists. The Brown Sugar Body Cream is available at Fresh Boutique, located at Westfield Century City.

Fresh Citron de Vigne

Fresh will be adding another soon to be favorite scent, Citron de Vigne to their already very popular line of fragrances. Inspired by Veuve Clicquot's vintage La Grande Dame Champagne, Citron de Vigne is earthy, lush and divine. Fresh co-founder Alina Roytberg was invited by Veuve Clicquot to visit their vineyard in Reims, where she witnessed the champagne-making process from beginning to end.

"To see the gently rolling hills, rows and rows of vines ripe with grapes, and rustic, generations-old Champagne cellars where hundreds of bottles are carefully stored is just magnificent," Roytberg says. "The whole experience of being there, the scent of the earth, the cobblestone streets, and boxes full of sweet-smelling grapes is truly magical." When Roytberg returned to the states, she brought along with her a bottle of champagne to share with her Fresh co-founder Lev Glazman, who was completely enamored with the taste and scent of the champagne. Thus, creating a new bubbly and lively scent recapturing Roytberg's trip to Reims, in hopes that others can experience the same.

The scent starts with an intense pinot noir layered with bergamot, dark almond, musk, jasmine tea leaves, lemongrass, white sandalwood, rose along with a few citrus notes, creating essentially wine in a perfume bottle. The fragrance is crisp and
