

Hollywood's Secret to Flawless Skin

SUNDAY, AUGUST 23, 2009 AT 8:04PM

After experiencing LA for the first time last week, I have to say I've never seen so many beautiful people, both men and women, in one area at the same time before. Maybe that's because I was gallivanting on Rodeo Drive to take in "the scene," but as soon as I got home, I had to do some investigative work on how they keep up their stunning looks. One of the answers: Face to Face Los Angeles in Studio City.

Hef's leading ladies from "The Girls Next Door" have gotten facials at the salon before and Kendra regularly visits the salon for the Iderm facial, which rejuvenate the skin from the inside out. With her new hubby and reality show, she has to keep her skin in prime condition! She even hosted her pre-bachelorette party there.

Fortunately for those of us who don't live in Cali, Face to Face Los Angeles has a product line available online so we can all have glowing skin like the rare breed of people I spotted on Rodeo Drive!
